Acquisition of Creative Art Products Ltd by Daler-Rowney Ltd

It is with great pleasure that we announce the acquisition of Creative Art Products Ltd by Daler-Rowney Ltd.

Creative Art Products Ltd has been supplying the education market with a wide range of children's art materials including paints, crayons, modelling materials and adhesives since 1920. From those beginnings Creative Art Products Ltd has become a leading supplier to the educational market through Local Authorities and Independent School suppliers and have since developed and expand their offering into other markets and through the brand Scola.

This acquisition complements our already wide range of FILA Art & Craft products portfolio and does reinforce our manufacturing presence in the UK. The breadth of our creative product range has never been bigger and continues to grow!

About Daler-Rowney

Our aim is to allow everyone to be creative. Inspiring creativity since 1783, we strive to be accessible, inclusive, and innovative, offering an outstanding artistic experience to all. We support your creativity. Artists are at the core of everything we do. We develop, produce, and deliver products, which are not only fit for purpose, but exceed the expectations of our artists community. Our mission is to inspire by creating sustainable, qualitative, durable art materials every day, every year for everybody, making art accessible. All our colours are made in England since 1783. Daler-Rowney is a key player in the educational market with products such as System3 Acrylic, Graduate Oil and Acrylic, Simply Colours, Brushes and Accessories...

About Creative Art Products Ltd

We are proud to be one of the few manufacturers of art and craft items in the UK! Founded in 1920, we manufacture and distribute a wide range of children's art materials, both Scola branded and Private label. We manufacture and supply the biggest range of paints, crayons, modelling materials and adhesives in the UK, at our site near to Manchester, Cheshire. The brand name Scola has become synonymous with quality products which are safe, good value and easy to use. Our products are now found in every primary classroom in the UK.
